DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Tanaka et al. (Tanaka), U.S. Patent 4,278,101.

The Tanaka patent discloses the claimed rinsing cell fro rinsing electrolyte from the end of a tubing, the tubing being disposed in the rinsing cell under an operative condition, which comprises, a housing having a rinse chamber disposed about an axis R and having an opening for receiving the tubing, such that the tubing extends from the exterior of the cell to the interior of the cell under operative condition and the housing having a bottom surface, a guide member, and first and second conduits (see claims 1-8 and figure 3). The reference further discloses the slots and opening guides as claimed (see figure 3 and claims 1-8).

Consequently, since the Tanaka patent discloses each and every limitation, the claims are anticipated. IN the alternative, the claims as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Tanaka patent with the teachings contained therein, to modify the size, shape or number of slots to obtain the invention, because such modification would have been within the purview of the ordinary artisan.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
